

About M.Phil./ Ph.D.

The Department of Botany is involved in both teaching and research. In teaching the Department is training the next generation students and enable them to lead the nation in Botany. The training received by the students enabled them to achieve major positions in agro-industries, research & academic institutions. The competency of the Department in research ranges Mycology and Mycology and Plant Pathology, Microbiology and Plant Physiology. The department has also produced distinguished Alumni among which many have been placed in academic, and research activities. The department has received grants from UGC (under Innovative programme Green Chemistry and Crop Protection programme).